WILLS WAITS

By Buster Willis

If we had a hat we would take it off to Roy Whitlock. Ever since the election he has been razzed from one end of the town to the other and he takes it grinning. We don't join some of his colleagues in a wild scramble for ambush before the votes were all counted. And he hasn't lodged any wise remarks about it. And another thing: We aren't trying to even-up for the crack we took at him in this column last week either. We've sold him a little business sense, then and didn't have to promise this column to get the business.

If there is anything that we dislike to see it's wasted talent. We know a barber (and a good barber, too) who is wasting his time with hair cuts, shaves, massages and tonics. Any man so gifted with a voice that he can sing his way off a headstone of a grave, is not doing it right. He should be second only to Singin' Sam of the Coco Cola program.

Somebody did the newspaper a big favor when they thought up the new "Fictitious name statute." We've sold a lot of things in our life but this selling that really is interesting to the public is the first time we've sold anything and could call it a saying you don't want to buy. If you are in business and are operating under a trade name and your business is not incorporated you are a prospective customer and if we have missed you, we've got forms and everything necessary for the publication of the public. All you need is five bucks when you get the proof of publication and another dollar to file the name with the clerk of the circuit court upon presentation of the proof of publication.

Blanton Watson, who is said to be one of the best celery growers in this neck of the woods, claims he has some celery plants that could be set now. That really is interesting to the public. We have heard about seed bed trouble and report. Blanton also says he has escarole and cabbage plants that are ready to set in a few more days. This is the first year that he has farmed entirely for himself and we hope he makes enough money to take Tommy O'Steen and us to the All-star baseball game next July.

If somebody don't claim and catch those steers that are roaming up and down the highway between here and six miles north of the highway patrolmen are going to have to get equipped with lassos and do the job. There is one long-horned "prospective steer" that looks particularly vicious and we don't envy the man who's lot requires him to catch it.

As a guest of the boss at the Rotary club luncheon last week we learned something about the ways and wherefores of the law. (Continued on page 3)

Helpful Information Given In Question And Answer Form

What Precautions Should be Observed in Treating Potatoes?
The treatment of seed potatoes with solutions of ethylene chlorohydrin is for the purpose of destroying dormant tubers to sprout quickly. Since over treatment may result in considerable loss of seed, the following precautions should be observed at all times:

- 1.—The stocks of ethylene chlorohydrin available this year are two and one-half times as strong as the stocks available in other years, but the 100 percent (anhydrous) ethylene chlorohydrin is not as strong as the stock before sale it is.

Organization Of Athletic Council To Be Completed

Meeting Tonight at Town Hall To Select Officers

A schedule meeting at the town hall tonight should see the completion of an organization for the purpose of sponsoring and assisting high school athletics in the new high school here. A tentative charter and by-laws have been prepared by a committee appointed at a former meeting for that purpose and nominations for officers have also been made by the same committee. A drive for funds to equip the athletic teams of the school is making some progress and football equipment has been ordered.

The original committee composed of Larry Nash, W. P. Kirk, Dr. Thomas Bragger, George Scarborough and Pat Buehler have done an admirable job to date in raising funds and preparing the proposed charter and by-laws.

V. C. Denton of Palokoke who has headed a similar organization in that town, is to be at the meeting here tonight to assist in the formation of the local organization and give the athletic benefit of his experience in handling the Palokoke council.

A meeting was held last week at which time Prof. L. W. Bartlett pointed out several conflicts incorporated you are a prospective customer and if we have missed you, we've got forms and everything necessary for the publication of the public. All you need is five bucks when you get the proof of publication and another dollar to file the name with the clerk of the circuit court upon presentation of the proof of publication.

Everglades B. & P. W. Club Holds Its Initial Fall Meeting Tuesday

"Unless our country is a better place for those to live in because of our having lived here, we are not good citizens," said Mrs. Lewis Murray, state citizenship chairman of the Parents Teachers Association, in an address given at the initial meeting of the Everglades Business and Professional Women's Club held Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Walter Schlecter, 1001 S. B. Jordan of Canal Point. "Whether you realize it or not," she continued, "each individual is an example to the world, for the good or bad in contact and with whom they come in contact and the liberty of this wonderful country, we have never known anything else, and take our privileges too much for granted. The freedom and liberties she emphasized the importance of making good citizens."

Taking the topic, "Look to the Future," Mrs. Schlecter presented the National Federation program book, she sounded the keynote of the study course for the year, which is outlined in the yearbook, "Strengthening Democracy for Defense." She pointed out that while we have and are the freedom and liberty of this wonderful country, we have never known anything else, and take our privileges too much for granted. The freedom and liberties she emphasized the importance of making good citizens."

U. S. Navy Will Start Advertising For More Recruits

Additional Men To Man New Boats Are Needed

For the first time in the history of the nation the U. S. Navy has turned to the small daily and weekly newspapers for assistance in securing manpower.

Beginning next week 100 weekly and 32 daily papers in Florida will carry advertisements designed to attract young men to the Navy service. Production of new ships for the two-year Navy is far ahead of the production of men for the ships which are the reason for the advertising program of the Navy.

Advancement will be rapid for recruits who show aptitude in any branch of the service. All newspapers used in the advertising program are assisting officers in every way possible. There will be headquarters for literature and information concerning enlistment in the Navy, supply of literature has already been received by the Herald and instructions have been given to all newspapers a-bout the handling of the campaign for the Navy.

It is now possible to enlist for the duration of the emergency and the Navy offers training in 45 different trades which is estimated to be worth $1,500 each during the first year to all recruits. In addition, you are paid while learning the trade if your choice or the grade for which you are best qualified.

The Navy is especially interested in young men. The age limit is not less than 17 and under 31. In the Naval Reserve the age limits are from 17 to 50.

Any young man interested is requested to call at this office for literature and full information.

Govt. Engineer Broadfoot To Be Moved From Area

Much concern has been expressed by farmers of this section over the announcement that A. M. Broadfoot, resident States Engineer's office in Clewiston, is to be transferred to Jacksonville in the near future. Cooperation in every way possible, his work here in connection with water control and the lake level has been most satisfactory. Mr. Broadfoot is taking a leave of absence from the farming industry.

"We feel," said Roscoe Broadfoot, in voicing the sentiments of the group of island farmers, "that his eight years of experience here have been sufficient to acquaint Mr. Broadfoot with the conditions which we might encounter."

MCLEODS RETURN

Mrs. and Mrs. D. R. McLeod and their daughter, Mrs. Katherine, have returned to their home in Belle Glade after spending the summer in Florence, S. C. Mrs. McLeod is taking a nurse training course at the McLeod Hospital there.

Donald Kirk, a very singular experimenter while visiting his uncle, W. M. Brown, was aroused during the night by a marauder among the poultry.

He was awakened by the sound of a dog barking and he went out to see what was the matter. He found a dog in the yard and he was very angry. He was very angry because the dog was barking and he was very angry because the dog was barking.

NOW LET'S GET TOGETHER

The election is all over. Officials have been chosen to conduct the affairs of Belle Glade for at least another year. They are the people who have carried on the business of the town for the past year. They have done an admirable job in the past year and the people of Belle Glade have every reason to believe that they will continue to so conduct the affairs of the town to warrant the respect and confidence that has been shown in them.

There is no town in Florida that has grown so rapidly in the past few years as has Belle Glade. There are still many things that we need to insure the growth and prosperity of the town. To acquire these things for civic and commercial betterment requires cooperation on the part of every citizen in the town. No one man or small group of men can do the job alone. Your officials are the servants of the people and can only do your bidding.

The records of achievement of any public official is nothing more or less than a job done. If much has been achieved it is merely a job well done. If little has been accomplished it is a job poorly done. So, let's get together and help our officials do a good job. Let's tell them what we want and see that they do it by helping them to do it better. We have a group of officials in Belle Glade whose integrity they are willing and anxious to establish commendable public records. Let's help them. Let's give them a hand. Let's all pull together for the common good of all, a bigger and more prosperous town in which to live.

TRASH IN THE MAILBOXES

The following statement from the president of one of the largest mail-order houses in the country properly explains the periodic batches of trash that Belle Glade residents find in their mailboxes, and which form a litter in the "post office lobby."

"We have a bureau whose duty it is to read each week the country newspapers from all over the country. There is not a paper of any consequence in our trade territory that our bureau does not get. This bureau looks over these papers and when we find a town where the merchants are not advertising in the local paper we immediately flood that territory with our literature. It always brings results far in excess of the money effort put forth in territory where the local merchants use their local papers."

Obviously one can obtain merchandise from the large mail order houses cheaper than it can be obtained from local merchants. However, there is room for debate as to whether this merchandise is really cheaper in the long run. Many order houses do not pay local taxes, donate to local charities, or repair local streets.

All of these cities are in the pockets of local citizens and merchants. Businessmen naturally bear a large part of the tax burden—the more business they do, the larger their establishment, and the more taxes they pay. Consequently, the less to come out of the pockets of the ordinary citizens. However, local merchants cannot do business and pay taxes if their legal customers sent their money out of town.

THE PLANETS GO THEIR WAYS

It is always refreshing, when the world is tormented with the troubles of mankind, to reflect upon the skies, through which the planets of our solar system move unimpeded by the sorrows that afflict human beings.

Thus we find, in the early evening, before twilight disappears, the planet Venus above the western horizon. This planet sets about an hour after the sun but is replaced by Mars which seems to climb over the eastern horizon to attract human eyes for the next two months.

Later in the night two other planets appear in the east, Saturn being visible about three hours after sunset and Jupiter rising about midnight.

You can gaze at these celestial visitors and forget your mundane affairs. At least, you can if you are a bit philosophical and inclined to think.

Rearmament is a good peace policy for the United States.

There is one sure way for young people to get ahead in life: Work and save.

Democracy in industry is coming in the United States but not very rapidly.

If the calendar is right, and we are supposed to have cool weather of Autumn, somebody ought to let the Sun know.

It looks like the Japanese are ready to wait a while and see if their prospects improve.

We are a little bit dubious about how the young things are going to appear in cotton hose.

There never will be an absence of politics in a democracy but there can be a minimum of it.

It is rare for a strong, healthy man to appreciate the plight of those who are in ill health.
